Is 3I/ATLAS the Doomsday Comet?

WOE, WOE, WOE

As scientists marvel at the discovery of a third interstellar object, God reveals the importance of the time of its appearing. We invite you to learn how not only this third object fulfills a prophetic role, but also the two other discovered previously. What message do they convey? In this video, after a brief contextual update, you will begin to understand how these are distinguished in the Bible, and what that means in relation to the return of our Lord, Jesus.

THE SEVENTH TRUMPET BEGINS TO SOUND

For sharing. Look up and see how our Lord has announced His imminent return! Our video series, The Finished Mystery will give you understanding on how the final prophecies of the Bible are quickly fulfilling.

THE MYSTERY OF THE SEVENTH BOWL

The Seventh Bowl of God's wrath contains a secret that is not so readily noticed, but once understood, it resolves many challenges of interpretation. The time is very short. Babylon is falling, and the Lord is calling out His people, before it crumbles on top of them and they can't escape. Give the warning and lead people to the light! We are entering a time when those in Babylon will mourn, but God's people may rejoice, for our King is coming! In this article, you will find encouragement in the brevity of the time as you see how the final fulfillments are already underway.

ELIJAH AND THE SILENT WITNESSES

God's ways are higher than man's ways—literally. With all that is going on below, God speaks from above in a still, small voice. The prophecies are fulfilling quickly, but Christians have been lulled asleep by false shepherds who teach pleasant error. Be awake and alert to God's voice from above, lest you be found among those for whom He comes as a thief. Listen attentively to the voice of the two witnesses who have quietly ascended to heaven in the dark of night when most were asleep.

7/1      3I/ATLAS officially discovered

3I/ATLAS, also known as C/2025 N1 (ATLAS) and previously as A11p13Z, is an interstellar comet discovered while inbound by the Asteroid Terrestrial-impact Last Alert System (ATLAS) station at Río Hurtado, Chile, on 1 July 2025 when it was 4.5 AU (670 million km; 420 million mi) from the Sun and moving at a relative speed of 61 km/s (38 mi/s). It follows an unbound, hyperbolic trajectory around the Sun with an orbital eccentricity of  $6.142 \pm 0.003$ .<sup>[7][a]</sup> It is the third interstellar object confirmed passing through the Solar System, after 1I/Oumuamua (discovered 19 October 2017) and 2I/Borisov (discovered 29 August 2019).<sup>[14]</sup>

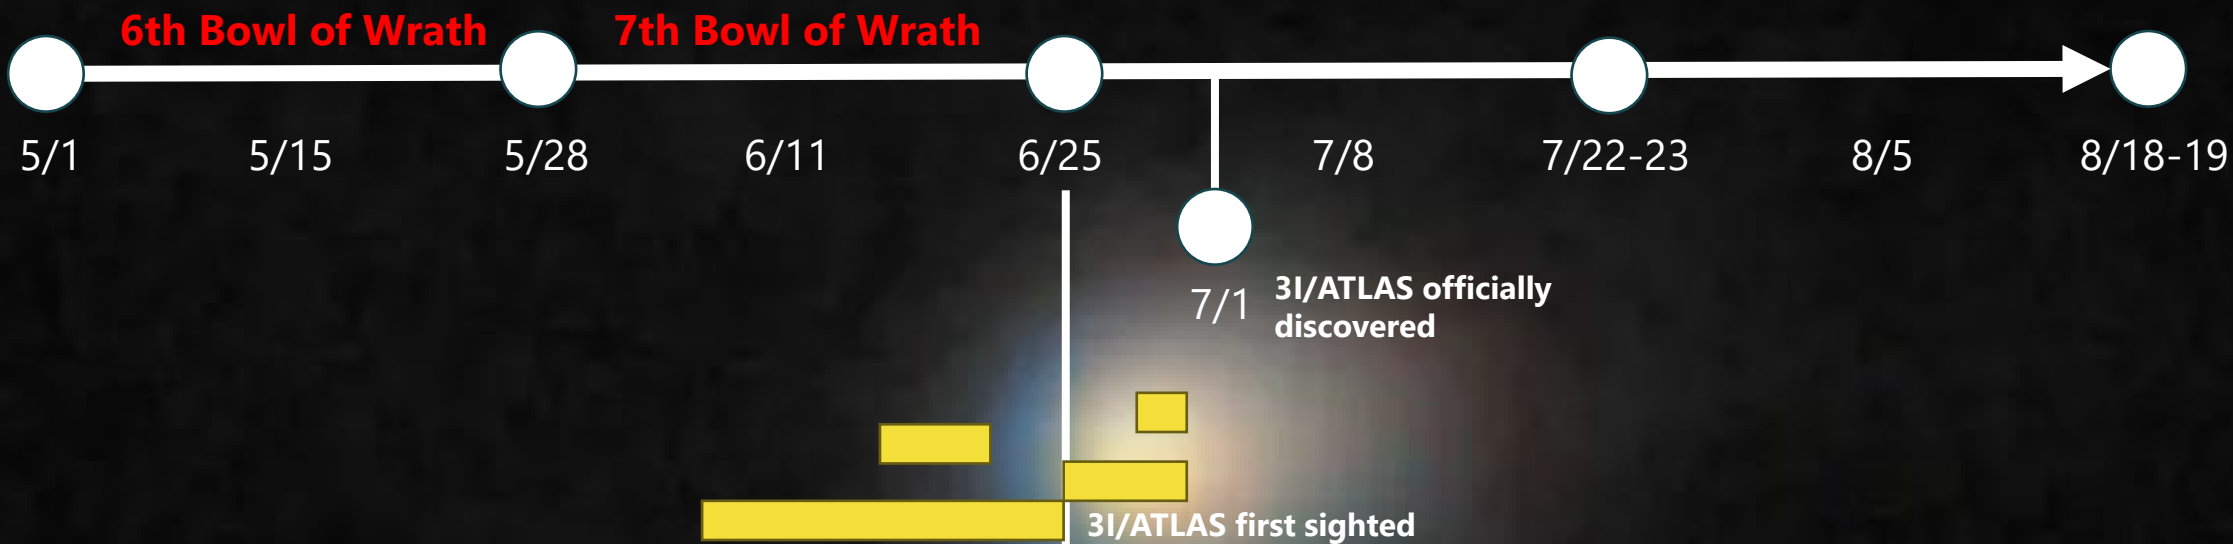

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/3I/ATLAS>

is more likely.<sup>[17]</sup> 3I/ATLAS will come to perihelion on 29 October 2025, at a distance of  $1.3571 \pm 0.0005$  AU ( $203.019 \pm 0.075$  million km;  $126.150 \pm 0.046$  million mi) from the Sun.<sup>[7][a]</sup> When far away from the Sun, the comet's hyperbolic excess velocity ( $v_{\infty}$ ) will be 58 km/s (36 mi/s) with respect to the Sun.<sup>[3][5][c]</sup> The comet's velocity suggests it originated in the thick galactic disk which contains many older stars, and therefore the comet may be water-rich and could be more than 7 billion years old.<sup>[18]</sup>

Follow-up observations from other observatories, involving both professional and amateur astronomers,<sup>[24]</sup> began to reveal that the object's trajectory would not come near Earth, but instead could be interstellar with a hyperbolic trajectory.<sup>[22][25]</sup> Pre-discovery observations of 3I/ATLAS confirmed its interstellar trajectory; these included Zwicky Transient Facility (ZTF, observatory code I41) observations from 28 to 29 June 2025 that were found within a few hours of the initial report,<sup>[20]</sup> ZTF observations from 14 to 21 June 2025,<sup>[1][26]</sup> and ATLAS observations from 25 to 29 June 2025.<sup>[14][22][25]</sup> Amateur astronomer Sam Deen has noted additional ATLAS pre-discovery observations from 5 to 25 June 2025, and suspected that 3I/ATLAS was not discovered earlier because it was passing in front of the Galactic Center's dense star fields, where the comet would be hard to discern.<sup>[27]</sup>

And the angel which I saw stand upon the sea and upon the earth lifted up his hand to heaven, And sware by him that liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things that therein are, and the things which are therein, that there should be time no longer: (Revelation 10:5-6)

Experts Still Divided on True Nature

Although NASA leans toward the comet theory, the object's size and directed movement still raise questions. Loeb expressed surprise that such a large object would be heading directly toward the inner solar system. He noted it is rare to see an object this large from outside the solar system. The true nature of 3I/ATLAS remains unknown. Scientists are continuing to study it as it moves closer to the sun. While many accept the comet theory, Loeb believes the unusual characteristics are worth deeper investigation.

Asteroids and comets can have all sorts of orbits, but they all still circumnavigate the Sun. This object, though, was moving too rapidly and in a very elongated manner, which indicated it “is not bound to the Sun's gravity and will never pass through our solar system again,” says Greenstreet.

There are also hints that the object is somewhat red—a tell-tale sign that it's made of primeval matter that coalesced during the early days of its planetary system. So it's probably an extremely old geologic time capsule.

Snapshot of a new interstellar comet: 3I/ATLAS has a red and featureless spectrum

Knight, Rosita Kokotanekova, Brayden Leicester, Michaël Marsset, Brian Murphy, Vincent Okoth, Ryan Ridden-Harper, Mathieu Vander Donckt, Léa Ferellec, Damien Hutsemekers, Manuela Lippi, Jean Manfroid, Zouhair Benkhaldoun

The interstellar comet 3I/ATLAS is only the third interstellar object to be discovered. Pre-perihelion measurements provide a unique opportunity to study its activity and composition, which may alter as it is heated in the coming months. We provide an initial baseline from optical spectroscopic observations obtained only two days after discovery, using the MUSE instrument on the VLT on 2025 July 3, while 3I was at 4.47 au from the Sun and 3.46 au from the Earth. These observations confirm the cometary nature of 3I, and reveal a red coma with a spectral slope of  $(18 \pm 4)\%/1000\text{-}\text{\AA}$ , redder than most Solar System comets but similar to the surface colour of some Solar System Trans-Neptunian Objects or Centaurs. We searched for but did not detect gas emission from  $\text{C}_2$ ,  $\text{NH}_2$ , CN, and [OI], which is consistent with volatile non-detections for Solar System comets at this heliocentric distance. At present, the coma appears entirely dusty. Future observations of 3I as it comes closer to the Sun will provide an invaluable opportunity to witness the evolution of its activity, study its composition, test predictions of interstellar object population models, and compare 3I to Solar System comets.

And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne. And the smoke of the incense, which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand. And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth: and there were voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, and an earthquake. (Revelation 8:3-5)

And the glory of the God of Israel was gone up from the cherub, whereupon he was, to the threshold of the house. And he called to the man clothed with linen, which had the writer's inkhorn by his side; And the LORD said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof. (Ezekiel 9:3-4)

And, behold, the man clothed with linen, which had the inkhorn by his side, reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me. (Ezekiel 9:11)

And he spake unto the man clothed with linen, and said,
Go in between the wheels, even under the cherub, and fill thine hand with coals of fire from between the cherubims, and scatter them over the city. And he went in in my sight. (Ezekiel 10:2)

Ezekiel Saw a Clockwork

And it came to pass, that when he had commanded the man clothed with linen, saying, Take fire from between the wheels,
from between the cherubims;
then he went in, and stood beside the wheels. (Ezekiel 10:6)

And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book. (Daniel 12:1)

A hand is shown holding a golden bell and a golden chalice. The bell is at the top, and the chalice is below it, both hanging from a chain. The background is a dramatic sunset over the Earth, with the sun low on the horizon, casting a golden glow over the clouds. The sky transitions from a bright orange near the sun to a deep blue at the top. The Earth's surface is visible below the clouds, showing a blue horizon line.

He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still. And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be. (Revelation 22:11-12)

And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God, Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound in the great river Euphrates. (Revelation 9:13-14)

And the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his testament: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, and great hail. (Revelation 11:19)

And there fell upon men a great hail out of heaven, every stone about the weight of a talent: and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof was exceeding great. (Revelation 16:21)

These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings: and they that are with him are called, and chosen, and faithful. (Revelation 17:14)

For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be. And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened. (Matthew 24:21-22)

Therefore that disciple whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fisher's coat unto him, (for he was naked,) and did cast himself into the sea. (John 21:7)

Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken. (John 21:11)

Is 3I/ATLAS the Doomsday Comet?

Soon our eyes were drawn to the east, for a small black cloud had appeared, about half as large as a man's hand, which we all knew was the sign of the Son of man. We all in solemn silence gazed on the cloud as it drew nearer and became lighter, glorious, and still more glorious, till it was a great white cloud. The bottom appeared like fire; a rainbow was over the cloud, while around it were ten thousand angels, singing a most lovely song; and upon it sat the Son of man. His hair was white and curly and lay on His shoulders; and upon His head were many crowns. His feet had the appearance of fire; in His right hand was a sharp sickle; in His left, a silver trumpet. His eyes were as a flame of fire, which searched His children through and through. Then all faces gathered paleness, and those that God had rejected gathered blackness. Then we all cried out, "Who shall be able to stand? Is my robe spotless?" Then the angels ceased to sing, and there was some time of awful silence, when Jesus spoke: "Those who have clean hands and pure hearts shall be able to stand; My grace is sufficient for you." At this our faces lighted up, and joy filled every heart. And the angels struck a note higher and sang again, while the cloud drew still nearer the earth. (EW 15.2)

Then Jesus' silver trumpet sounded, as He descended on the cloud, wrapped in flames of fire. He gazed on the graves of the sleeping saints, then raised His eyes and hands to heaven, and cried, "Awake! awake! awake! ye that sleep in the dust, and arise." Then there was a mighty earthquake. The graves opened, and the dead came up clothed with immortality. The 144,000 shouted, "Alleluia!" as they recognized their friends who had been torn from them by death, and in the same moment we were changed and caught up together with them to meet the Lord in the air. (EW 16.1)

And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads;
for your redemption draweth nigh. (Luke 21:28)
