

GREAT 31/ATLAS UPDATE

The Sign of the Son of Man!
It appears shortly!

THE BRIDE MAKES HERSELF READY

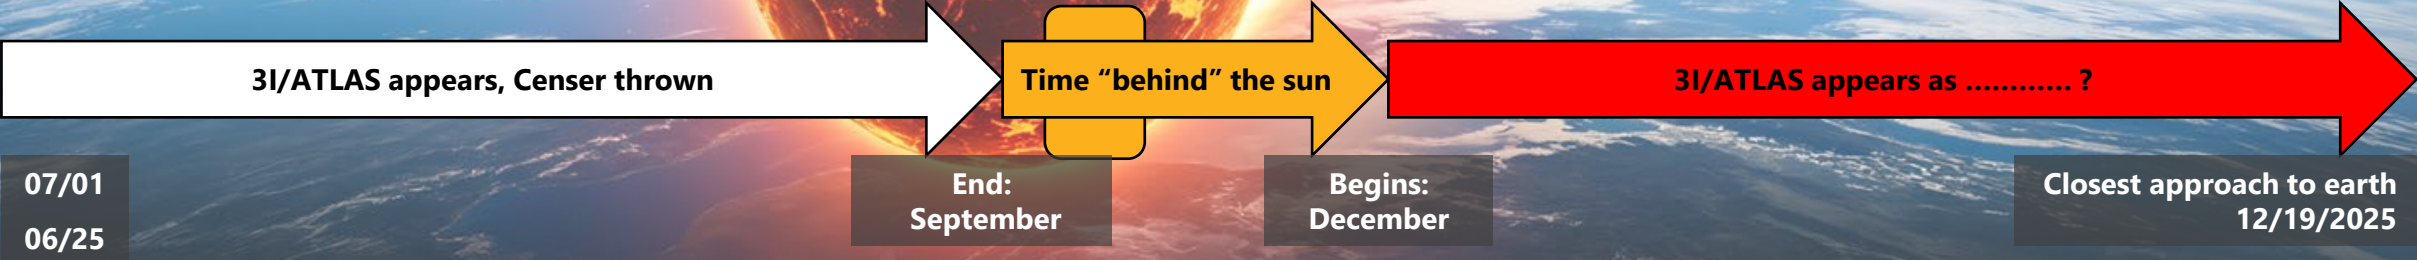

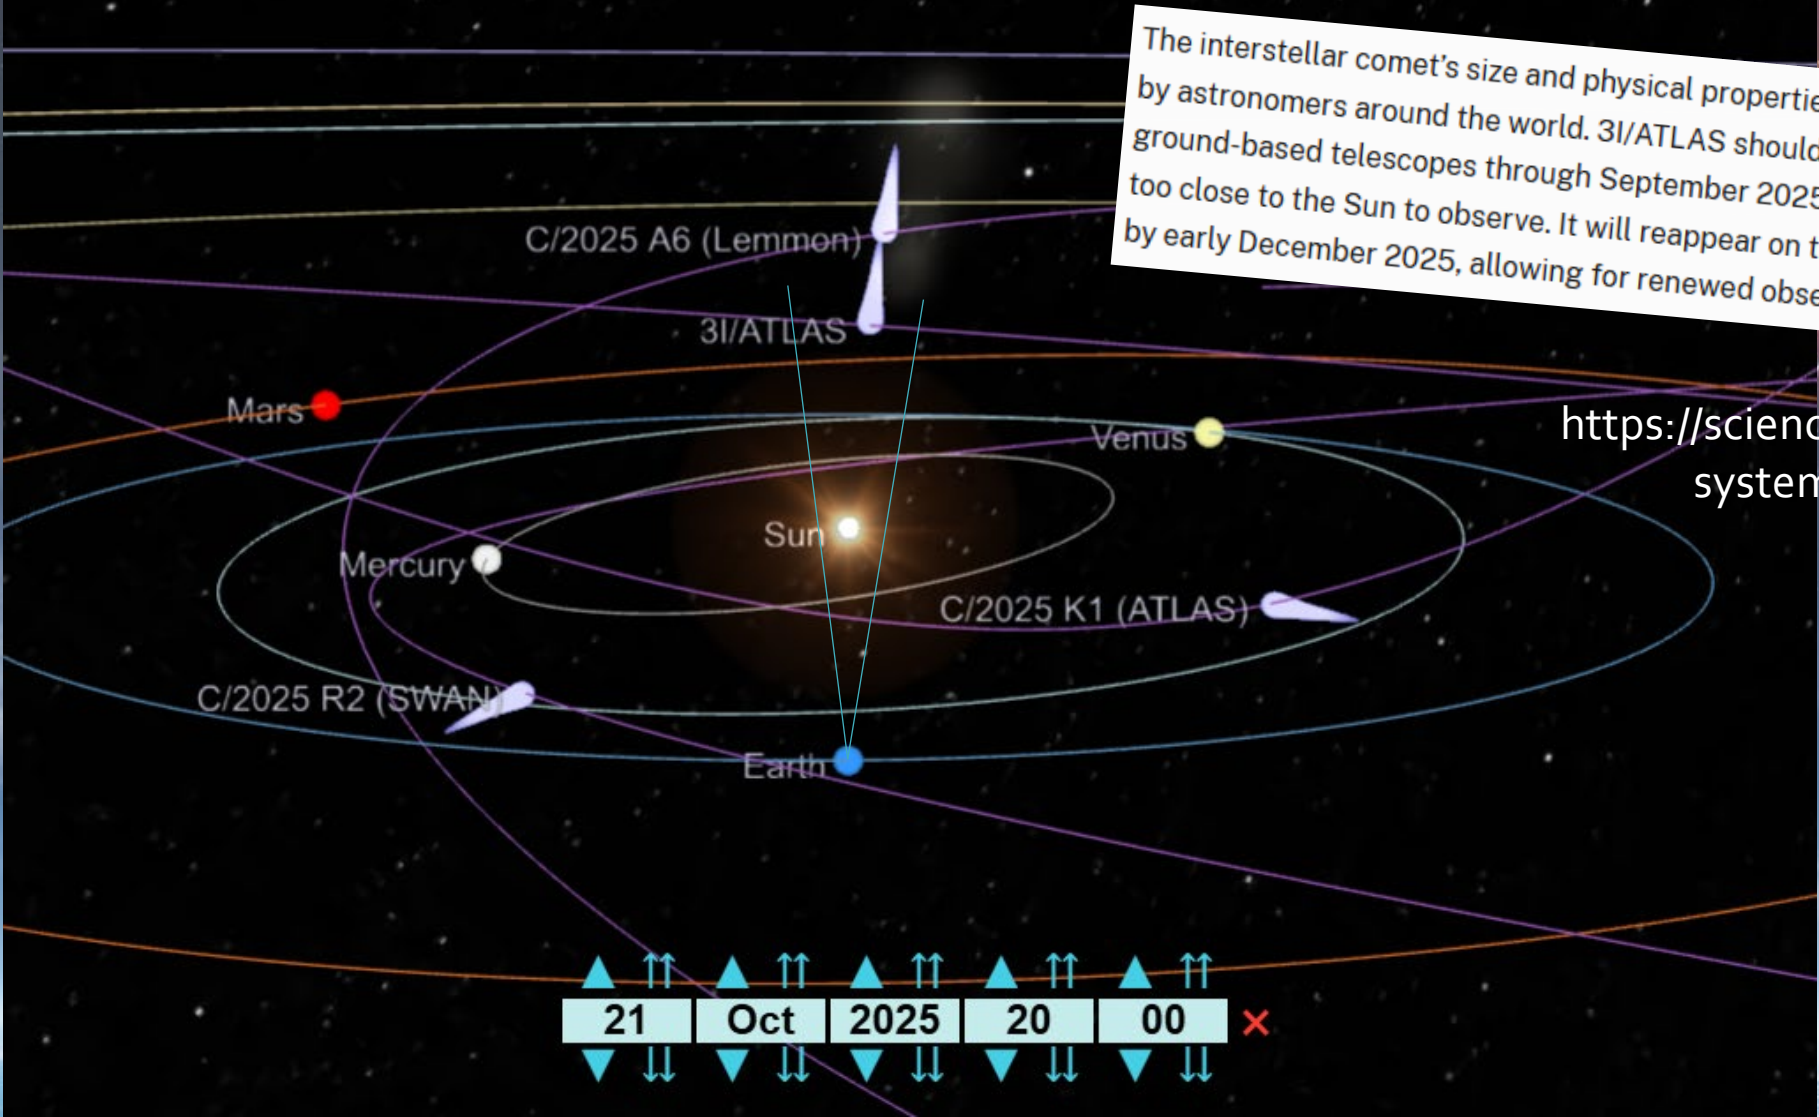

As the greater light of heaven approaches the cross at the galactic equator and Trump is attempting to extinguish Babylon's wars, the blood of countless saints resting in their graves testifies of the wrath that awaits her. Meanwhile, the lesser light also plays an important role in these final events. In this strikingly straight-forward study of Scripture, you will see how God uses the heavenly symbols in ways few would imagine. The bride of Christ is making herself ready, and God has promised that she shall be clothed in pure, spotless linen. The biblical insight in this video will forever change your perspective regarding the rhetorical question God asked Job: "Hast thou entered into the treasures of the snow? Hast thou seen the treasures of the hail, Which I have reserved against the time of trouble, against the day of battle and war?"

The interstellar comet's size and physical properties are being investigated by astronomers around the world. 3I/ATLAS should remain visible to ground-based telescopes through September 2025, after which it will pass too close to the Sun to observe. It will reappear on the other side of the Sun by early December 2025, allowing for renewed observations.

Editorial Notice: Announcement of IAWN Comet Astrometry Campaign

Announcement of IAWN Comet Astrometry Campaign, Nov. 27, 2025 - Jan. 27, 2026.

Comets present unique challenges for accurate astrometric measurements and orbit predictions. Cometary bodies are extended with morphological features (coma and tails) that can systematically pull their centroid measurements off their central brightness peak, presenting challenges to estimate comet trajectories.

The International Asteroid Warning Network (IAWN) announces a comet campaign from November 27, 2025, through January 27, 2026, to introduce methods for improving astrometry from comet observations. The campaign will target comet 31/ATLAS (C/2025 N1) to exercise the capability of the observing community to extract accurate astrometry. To prepare for the campaign, we will hold a workshop in techniques to correctly measure comet astrometry.

Registration is required by November 7th (here) for the workshop and only those participants that attend will be able to participate in the campaign.

The Campaign Schedule is provided below:

- Comet Campaign Workshop, Nov. 10, 2025, 15:00 UTC
- Campaign Kick Off: Nov. 25, 2025, 15:00 UTC (1 hour)
- Observing Window Opens: November 27, 2025
- Mid-Campaign Check-in Telecon: December 9, 2025, 15:00 UTC
- Observing Window Closes: January 27, 2026
- Close-out Telecon: February 3, 2026, 15:00 UTC.

The Burevestnik, which means "storm petrel" in Russian, is the world's first nuclear-powered missile. That propulsion gives it virtually unlimited range, allowing it to loiter for days, circling the enemy's air defenses and attacking from an unexpected direction.

IAWN is a world-wide planetary defense collaboration of organizations and individual astronomers recommended by United Nations resolution who collectively work to detect, monitor, and characterize potentially hazardous asteroids and Near-Earth Objects (NEOs). If an asteroid threat were ever identified, IAWN would act as a centralized hub for disseminating information to governments to aid with analysis of impact consequences and with planning of mitigation response options.

And the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast. These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast. These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings: and they that are with him are called, and chosen, and faithful. (Revelation 17:12-14)

Part 2 - Rider on the white horse

Rev 19:11-16

(11) And I saw heaven opened, and beheld a white horse, and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he doth judge and make war.

(12) His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowns, and he had a name written, that no man knew, but he himself.

(13) And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood: and his name is called The Word of God.

(14) And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean.

(15) And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the winepress of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.

(16) And he hath on his vesture and on his thigh a name written, KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. (Hebrews 11:1)

But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him. (Hebrews 11:6)

He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still. (Revelation 22:11)

- 🧬 1. The Situation Before 2016

- Until 2015, mRNA technology was still considered experimental:
- mRNA was too unstable and degraded too quickly in the body.
- Strong immune reactions occurred, which were viewed as side effects.
- Major pharmaceutical companies were skeptical.
- However, researchers like Katalin Karikó and Drew Weissman (University of Pennsylvania) had already been researching chemically modified mRNA since 2005—mRNA that was more stable and caused fewer inflammatory responses. Between 2010 and 2015, several biotech startups — Moderna (USA), BioNTech (Germany), and CureVac (Germany) — worked on applications for cancer vaccines and infectious diseases.

- 📅 2. The Milestone Year 2016
- 2016 was the year when mRNA vaccines entered clinical trials for the first time and gained WHO-related attention. Several key events took place:
 - ♦ (a) WHO and the Global Vaccination Strategy
 - In August 2016, the 8th WHO Conference on the Development of Influenza Vaccines was held (August 23–24, 2016). There, the concept of so-called “universal influenza vaccines” was discussed — vaccines that could be based on novel platforms such as mRNA.
 - ➔ This was the first time that mRNA-based approaches were officially mentioned and strategically considered within the WHO framework as future vaccine platforms.

- ◆ (b) The Groundbreaking Scientific Publications

- At the end of August 2016, two landmark papers were published that paved the way for the later COVID-19 mRNA vaccine technology:
- Nature (August 29, 2016) – “Self-amplifying mRNA vaccines express antigens at high levels in vivo and protect against influenza virus challenge”
👉 Showed for the first time that self-amplifying mRNA vaccines could provide protection against influenza in mice and primates.
- Molecular Therapy (August 30, 2016) – “mRNA-based therapeutics – developing a new class of drugs”
👉 A review article summarizing the development, challenges, and opportunities of mRNA-based vaccines and therapeutics — essentially the manifesto of modern mRNA medicine.
- These two publications are frequently cited in the scientific literature as milestone papers of 2016, because they convincingly demonstrated the technical feasibility and enormous potential of mRNA vaccines for the first time.

- 2018: Collaborations with the WHO and CEPI began to promote mRNA platforms for pandemic preparedness.
- 2020: The COVID-19 pandemic confirmed the success of these foundational years.
